

Washington Outdoor Women and Ducks Unlimited present a one-day workshop:
Introduction to Waterfowling ~ March 27, 2010
8:30 a.m. ~ 4:30 p.m.
Snohomish County Private Hunt Club

Dear WOW enthusiast,

We are excited about your interest in Waterfowling and WOW's upcoming workshop. To help you understand what's involved, please note the following information:

To provide a hands-on experience, the day will be conducted in duck hunting terrain. Activities will focus on duck identification, decoying, calling, retrieving and what to do with ducks after a successful hunt! . We plan to hold the workshop rain or shine! Please dress accordingly. You will be outdoors much of the workshop. What we will provide: A light breakfast and a hearty lunch, coffee, tea, water, and snacks
Shotguns, ammunition, shooting glasses, earplugs, handouts
Map and Driving Directions

What you need to bring: Rain gear if the weather looks wet.
Warm clothing suitable for field activities
Rubber or waterproof knee boots - this is absolutely necessary!
Or hip boots or waders if you have them
Slippers or wool socks for the clubhouse
In the interest of conservation, please bring your own water bottle

When WOW receives your completed registration with payment, a confirmation will be sent to you. It will include an agenda and directions to the event. A signed waiver (available at check-in) is required to participate. On March 27th look for WOW signs as you approach the club. The workshop sign-in will be held in the brick clubhouse just past the large brick barn. Parking is available next to the clubhouse
